HONOR CODE LIVING

As essential members of the ORU family, students must clearly recognize that all of us have a desire to further develop and exhibit responsible and mature behavior. That goal is a basic premise of the personal Honor Code.

At ORU, students pledge to endeavor to present a good appearance at all times. In both attire and behavior, students should strive to demonstrate good taste in all instances. The way they present themselves to others is of vital importance to the way others perceive Christ. An individual's conduct should never be an embarrassment to others but should exemplify the best qualities of a mature and respectful student. The university's dress code promotes such an attitude.

Exemplifying the highest moral commitment, ORU students refrain from profanity, smoking, gambling, alcoholic beverages, dishonesty, illegal drugs and all behavior that might cause Christ to grieve.

As responsible learners, students should make every effort to be prompt to classes, chapel, Sunday worship and all appointments. Classes, chapel and worship services at local churches are all integral parts of the ORU lifestyle.

By providing an example for others in word and deed, each student should encourage others' adherence to the Honor Code. Students should be sure not to incite another's violation of the code and should seek to strengthen the bond of trust at every opportunity.

The students and leadership of Oral Roberts University affirm that, regardless of faith, creed or race, all students admitted to the university must agree to uphold the Honor Code and the rules governing ORU. No time, place or circumstance gives release from the individual's initial promise. The Honor Code is a way of life, measured by the heart and commitment of each member of the ORU family, and students should regard it as essential to development, not as an imposition or restriction.

The registration process is incomplete until students have formally signed the Honor Code Pledge.
