"Excellence in Business Education. Excellence in Christ-like Character. Shaped and inspired in a strong Christian community, we're forging innovative forward-thinkers to address business challenges in today's dynamic marketplace. Fully ACBSP accredited. Fully engaged."

– Dr. Julie Huntley

Dean, College of Business

THIS RIGOROUS PROGRAM

features the groundbreaking ONEOK Executive Boardroom, affectionately referred to as the "Shark Tank," where students make presentations and pitch business proposals in a real-world environment. In turn they gain leadership tools and discover the confidence necessary to present their ideas in high-powered situations.

"ORU is a school unlike any other. From the faculty to the students, the university family not only cares about your academic success, but also your personal growth and development."

– Jessica Craig

2011 graduate of ORU's College of Business.

Our Christian worldview illuminates every aspect of business as students learn the critical discipline of seeking wisdom in business endeavors. ORU's outstanding faculty fosters intellectual engagement, inspiring students to lead in business through real-world exposure and professional feedback. This is evidenced by our Enactus business team, which has been ranked in the top 10 in national competition for the last three years, placing fifth at the 2012 national championships.

The College of Business cultivates innovation, problem-solving, and vibrant engagement as students develop comprehensive solutions for a shifting global economy as well as the agility necessary to move between private and public sectors.
