NSU PRESIDENT

Dear Conference Guests,

Welcome to Northeastern State University (NSU), an institution of higher learning, established on the rich educational heritage of the Cherokee Nation. In 1846, the Cherokee National Female Seminary was founded and since then, this historic link to the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory make Northeastern the oldest institution of higher learning in Oklahoma. Today, we are Oklahoma's fourth-largest public, four-year institution, and one of six regional institutions governed by the Regional University System of Oklahoma Board. It is with pleasure that I welcome you to the Oklahoma Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (OACTE) Annual Fall 2012 Conference. We are so pleased to share the Broken Arrow campus of Northeastern State University with each institution and special guests represented from all across our state and region. The theme of the Conference for this year is Embracing the Future for Oklahoma Teacher Education: Vision, Venture, and Value. The combined talent and influence of each of you solidifies how successful we have been in preparing educators in Oklahoma.

The conference strands: Innovative Partnerships; Creative Teaching and Learning Strategies; Research; Use of Data in Improving Learning; Leadership; Accreditation; and Policy and Legislation are key components of statewide and national success in teacher education. I believe we are the leaders in innovation, and I know that the discussions you have during this Conference will bring about even greater success for our futures.

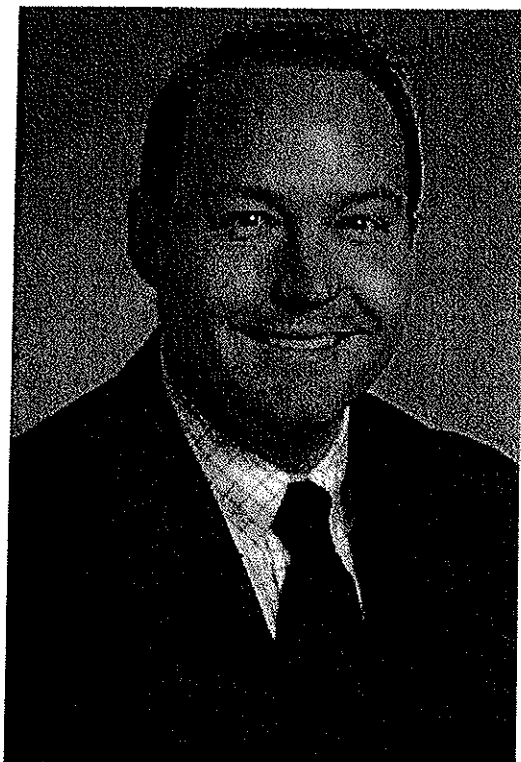

I am a living testament of Oklahoma schools, and it was because of an outstanding teacher that I have been able to reach the goals that she saw in me. This Conference has brought together the leading teacher preparation programs. While you are here, we hope you will engage in critical dialogue, learn new ideas in innovation, connect with colleagues from various schools, and make new friends as you continue to support education.

Please enjoy this time on our Broken Arrow campus throughout the Conference, and accept our open invitation to visit the historic Tahlequah home site and our Muskogee branch campus, as well. NSU is a great university with three access points.

Sincerely,

President
