

Faculty Profile - Dr. Amanda Wilson

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION INTRODUCTION TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Dr. Amanda Wilson has always loved education and knew she wanted to be a teacher from a very early age. She considers it a privilege to work with teacher candidates as they pursue a career in education. Dr. Wilson's hope is that her students will experience the same Spirit-empowered education and transformation that she had while she was a College of Education teacher candidate many years earlier.

About the Course

Have you ever considered a career in education? In this course, aspiring teachers will learn the skills and information needed to support the physical growth and development of children from birth through age eight. You will team up with fellow students to practice developmentally appropriate strategies and advocacy techniques for the classroom. In addition to classroom discussions and collaborative activities, you will tour educational institutions to gain information about health, safety, nutrition, playground design, and physical education.
