

Faculty Profile - Tim Waters

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND CULTURAL STUDIES

INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC PRODUCTION

Dr. Tim Waters is a professor of Music and is the Music Production Coordinator at ORU. Dr. Waters is known for imparting musical excellence as well as Biblical standards for personal integrity. He weaves ministry moments into his lectures and challenges students to seek God's best in every opportunity.

About the course

Students will be introduced to concepts, equipment, software, and techniques associated with the contemporary music recording studio. You will get hands-on experience with music production tools; MIDI, Digital Audio Workstation (DAW) software, basic digital audio editing and sheet music notation software. Students will also be exposed to the basics of microphones, audio speakers and mixing consoles.

Contact information

Email: twaters@oru.edu