Examination of Courses with Six or More Credits Awarded

6 credit offering: SWK 443-01 Practicum 3: Professional Application

The SWK 443-01 Practicum 3: Profession Application course offered for 6 credits in the Department of Behavioral Sciences provides students senior practicum experience in the professional social work for generalist practice. Students are placed in a social service agency under the supervision of a person with a Masters in Social Work (MSW) degree and perform roles and job descriptions similar to those of the professional social workers of the agency.

Students in this course are required to participate in 480 hours of practicum experience while meeting with the ORU instructor and other class participants weekly for one hour. Assessment of the experience occurs primarily through evaluation of written material submitted by the student including action plans, agency analyses, case records, article critiques, weekly journals, and field evaluations.

10 credit offering: GPED 650-01 Student Teaching Away

The GPED 650-01 Student Teaching Away course offered for 10 credits in the School of Education provides Education majors the opportunity to fulfill student teaching obligations at educational institutions located in states and school districts of the student's choosing—normally outside of Oklahoma. This availability provides students the opportunity to develop networking relationships with school districts in anticipation of potential employment.

The course includes a teaching supervision fee of $1,300 as the course requires a supervising instructor to travel to the distant site and observe the student during the student teaching experience. Assessment of the 600 hour long educational experience occurs through on-site evaluation from both the ORU instructor and the local teacher.

Program Length

ORU offers academic programs leading to bachelor, master, and doctoral degrees. While the University Catalog provides significant detail concerning these programs, Table 6.1 offers an overview of the range of credit hour requirements for each of the degree levels.

Level of Degree Program	Range of Credit Hour Requirements for Graduation
Bachelor	128-139 (128 hours minimum)
Master	36-87.5
Doctor	37.5-60.5

Table B.1: Range of Credit Hour Requirements for Degree Programs

Tuition

Tuition rates at ORU vary based on location of student, academic session, level of academic study, and choice of academic program as shown in Figure 6.1.

The undergraduate residential fall and spring tuition rate at ORU is based on a full-time course load of 12.0 to 18.5 credit hours. For the academic year 2012-2013, the undergraduate residential tuition rate is $10,431 per semester or $20,862 per academic year, which is approximately $2,000 less than the average tuition rate of Council for Christian Colleges and University (CCCU) institutions. This semester rate translates into a range of $564 to $869 per credit hour depending on individual student registration. For students taking less than 12.0 hours, the tuition rate is $872 per credit hour, which is the same rate for additional hours taken by students over the 18.5 hour maximum recommended limit.

The tuition rate for undergraduate residential 2012 summer school courses is set at $575 per credit hour.

The 2012-2013 tuition rate for courses (undergraduate or graduate) delivered through distance learning is $413 per credit hour. Residential students may participate in distance education courses by enrolling in identified sections of these courses and paying the distance education tuition in addition to any tuition required for residential courses.

Graduate students are charged tuition on a credit hour basis. Students enrolled in nine credit hours are considered full-time. In the Graduate School of Business and the Graduate School of Education, the tuition rate for academic year 2012-2013 is $541 per credit hour while the tuition rate in the Graduate School of Theology and Ministry is $472 per credit hour.

Student Complaints

ORU has a clear process for students to file complaints of a nonacademic nature as described in the Student Handbook. Any student may initiate (with the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, or the dean of the respective graduate school) a grievance procedure to resolve problems or complaints “in regard to discrimination based on race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, age, disability, or status as a veteran.” For academic grievances students engage with the Student Academic Grievance Procedures developed based on Matthew 18:15, which encourages “If your brother sins against you, go and show him his fault, just between the two of you. If he listens to you, you have won your brother over.” When a student would feel threatened discussing his or her grievance with the other party in the dispute in private, the grievance procedures should be initiated by the student by taking the grievance to the immediate supervisor of the other party in the dispute, in accordance with the procedures.

The University compliance officer receives student comments submitted through the ORU website and forwards each to the appropriate vice president for action. For the time period covering January 2009 through January 2012, ORU received 302 comments and suggestions through this procedure. University administration responds in a timely manner to all issues received and records the disposition of such matters.

Transfer Policies

As listed in the University Catalog and online, ORU’s transfer policies, practices, and guidelines create an environment supportive of the mobility of learners. Credit can be transferred to ORU in several ways.

Transferring Credit before Matriculation

ORU accepts liberal arts courses from regionally accredited institutions. ORU also accepts credits from schools accredited by the Association for Biblical Higher Education, and the Association of Theological Schools. Technical or vocational courses are not ordinarily considered for transfer. No credit is given for any course with less than a “C” level grade. Transfer credits from institutions not regionally accredited may be accepted on the same basis that they are accepted by the reporting institution in their own state. Known internally as the “three-letter rule,” ORU may accept courses demonstrated as acceptable to at least three regionally accredited institutions.

Transfer credit for ORU equivalency is based on transfer guidelines. Courses that do not have an ORU equivalent but are academic in nature are counted as general elective credit unless transferred in to meet a specific requirement through a petition to transfer course.

ORU accepts test-out credit from regionally accredited institutions with grades of “A,” “B,” and “C” recorded as “TPC” on the ORU transcript. Grades of “D” and “F” are recorded as an “NTD” on the ORU transcript, but no credit is given. The words “test-out” appear as part of the course title on the ORU transcript.

For students entering ORU fall 2006 or later from a community or junior college, a maximum of 72 semester hours may be transferred to ORU. For students entering before fall 2006, a maximum of 64 semester hours may be transferred to ORU. A maximum of 98 hours can be transferred from four-year institutions. The last 30 semester hours of a degree program, including at least six hours in the major field and the senior paper or project, must be taken at ORU.

Transferring Credit from Oklahoma Colleges and Universities

Oral Roberts University participates in the Course Equivalency Project (CEP) sponsored by the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. CEP is a postsecondary education resource service that provides course equivalency information to facilitate student transfer within the Oklahoma System of Higher Education. Its database contains faculty-generated course equivalency information for hundreds of courses offered at most institutions in Oklahoma. The courses are organized by discipline: biology, history, etc. Within each discipline, several equivalency groups appear, each containing a collection of courses from sponsoring institutions. Credit for a course within a group can be transferred to any system institution that sponsors a course in that group. The entire matrix of courses and their transferability can be found at <http://www.okhighered.org/student-center/transfer-students/course-transfer.shtml>. Prerequisites for these courses must be met.

Transferring Credit from Concurrent Enrollment

College credit hours earned while concurrently enrolled in high school are eligible for transfer credit in accordance with ORU transfer guidelines if the hours were earned at a regionally accredited institution or otherwise recognized institution. College credits earned prior to high school graduation eligible for transfer credit as ORU 100- and 200-level courses are automatically transferred in. College credits earned prior to high school graduation that would transfer in as ORU 300- and 400-level courses, including general elective credit, are eligible for transfer credit by Petition for Policy Exception only.

Transferring Credit into Professional Programs

Transfer of courses into any program that prepares students for professional certification or licensure may not apply to degree requirements if such transfer courses are prohibited or restricted by state law, the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, or specific requirements for professions, certification, accreditation, or licensure. For example, in the teacher education programs, ORU cannot normally accept credit from junior colleges or community colleges to meet upper-division teacher education requirements.

Transferring Credit from Non-Accredited (Regional) Institutions

Certification, diploma, associate degree, and other pre-bachelor degree programs issued by institutions not accredited by regional accrediting agencies and without articulation agreements are not accepted for block credit. Courses in these programs may be evaluated individually according to ORU credit transfer policies.

Credit earned in military service schools or through the U.S. Armed Forces Institute is reviewed by the Registrar's Office. Credit may be granted if approved by petition. Basic Military Training meets the ORU general education requirements for Health Fitness I and II.

Transferring Credit from Examinations

Credit granted through Advanced Placement (AP), the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), and Advanced Level (A Level) examinations set by the General Certificate Examination (GCE) Boards appear on student transcripts as accepted credit regardless of whether the students graduate from ORU.

Transferring Credit from Foreign Institutions

ORU generally follows the guidelines set forth by the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs (NAFSA) and the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) when transferring foreign academic credit. The amount of credit granted may vary at the discretion of the degree granting dean.

Verification of Student Identity

Distance Learning recognizes the importance of identity verification. The potential of cheating jeopardizes the integrity of online education. Identity verification is an evolving science, and ORU will continue to monitor best practices and remain in full compliance. ORU adheres to all FERPA regulations.

1. ORU is a values-based university. All students (including distance students) are required to sign the Honor Code upon acceptance to the University. Contained within the Honor Code is a commitment to academic integrity.
2. Distance students use an ORU-generated student ID number and user-selected pass code for accessing secure online course and enrollment resources. Social Security Numbers are not used as part of the identity verification process.
3. Distance Learning will continue to evaluate additional solutions, such as Secureexam Remote Proctor, which includes fingerprint scanning, restricting the computer's functions, and video and audio monitoring.

Title IV Program and Related Responsibilities

ORU participates in a wide range of Title IV and other federal and state programs such as the Pell Grant, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Work Study program, Oklahoma Tuition Aid Grant, Oklahoma Tuition Equalization Grant, Oklahoma's Promise, Direct Subsidized and Unsubsidized Loans, Direct PLUS Loan, and Perkins Loan. ORU upholds the highest standards of ethical and legal conduct in all aspects of the aid process, using a Title IV Aid - School Code of Conduct Policy as the basis for professional standards.

General Program Responsibilities

The ORU Financial Statements dated April 30, 2011 and 2010 with Independent Auditors' Report indicates no findings and reports that "the results of [audit] tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards."

Financial Responsibility Requirements

According to the Hogan Taylor, LLP Independent Auditors' Report on Compliance with Requirements Applicable to Each Major Program and Internal Control over Compliance in Accordance with OMB Circular A-133, ORU “complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the year ended April 30, 2011.” The audit “did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that [the auditors] consider to be material weaknesses,” nor any “significant deficiencies that are not considered to be material weaknesses.” The independent auditors also reported that no “audit findings disclosed that are required to be reported in accordance with section 510(a) of Circular A-133” with no financial statement findings nor finding and questioned costs for Federal awards.

Default Rates

Over the period of the last ten years, ORU has maintained a default rate that compares well with peer institutions. With the change in reporting requirements to use three-year default rates, the new rates indicate higher values than the previously used two-year rates as the new rates include a full additional year of alumni data. Figure 6.2 indicates a comparison between two-year and three-year default rate reporting along with average peer institution rates as reported through the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS).

Figure B.2: Change in 2 and 3-year default rates from ORU and peer institutions from 2009-2012

The increase in default rates reported by peer institutions and ORU, especially in 2012, probably reflects the overall effect of the economy, which has had significant impact on the earning potential of recent graduates. However, even at these higher rates, the default rates reported by ORU are far below the Department of Education threshold values of 27%. Nevertheless, the Financial Aid department continues to work with alumni to lower the default rate by individually contacting those who appear on the delinquency report, which indicates participants who may be about to default. By assigning staff to interact with alumni prior to default with warnings of consequences and recommendations for avoiding default, ORU assists alumni to prioritize loan repayment.

While students who receive loans participate in the federally required exit interviews, the Director of Financial Aid now requires all incoming students to participate in a group entrance counseling lecture on loans, responsibilities, and consequences.

Campus Crime Information, Athletic Participation and Financial Aid, and Related Disclosures

ORU discloses information to students concerning a variety of issues through the “current students” section of the University’s web pages. Similar types of information are grouped together and made available not only for current students but for any interested constituent.

Campus Crime Information

The Department of Public Safety and Security provides access to many valuable resources concerning emergency information, regulations, and safety tips including mobile access to e-alert through the Public Safety section of the ORU web site. The page also provides direct access to the Clery Act Annual Security and Fire Report. Data from the 2011 report is summarized in Table 6.2.

Student Right to Know

Students may access to Right to Know data, policies, and procedures through the ORU Institutional Research and the Student Resources web sites with additional information found in the University Catalog and the Student Handbook.

Graduation and Completion Rates

Graduation rates for first-time, full-time Bachelor degree seeking students who initiated study at ORU during fall 2005 and finished their programs within 150% of normal time appear in Table 6.4.

Student Withdrawal Process

As indicated in the University Catalog, a student withdrawing from the University must initiate the process by completing paperwork in the Student Development Office. If a student leaves campus before going to the Student Development Office, he or she must submit, in writing, a notice of withdrawal to the Student Development Office. The date that the notice is received constitutes the official date of withdrawal, and all applicable financial and academic policies will apply. The last day to withdraw from the University is the date for the final day of class.

Refund and Return of Title IV Funds Policy

ORU's Refund and Return of Title IV Funds policy is stated in the University Catalog as follows:

“Federal law requires that when a student withdraws during a payment period or period of enrollment, the amount of financial aid ‘earned’ up to that point be determined. If the student received less financial aid than the amount earned, the student will be able to receive those additional funds; if the student has received more financial aid than the earned amount, the excess funds will be returned to their sources and the student may owe ORU for institutional charges.

The amount of assistance earned is determined on a pro-rated basis. For example, if 30% of the payment period or period of enrollment has been completed, the student has earned 30% of the originally scheduled financial assistance. Once the student has completed more than 60% of the payment period or period of enrollment, all assistance is earned.”

Access to Additional Information

The ORU web site provides students information related to all current academic programs, cost of attendance, faculty, accrediting agencies, and description of facilities for disabled students.

As a mission-related experience, students are encouraged to participate in study abroad opportunities. ORU's Study Abroad advisor interacts with students assisting with their understanding of policies and completion of procedures to participate in the various opportunities available. Student participants in study abroad activities continue to integrate their experiences abroad with domestic college experiences through a student-led social club and Facebook community that focuses on assisting students readjust to college life after foreign travel.

Satisfactory Academic Progress and Attendance Policies

Students will find both ORU's Satisfactory Academic Progress policy and attendance policy in the University Catalog. For clarity and consistency, the syllabus of every ORU course includes specific application of the attendance policy for the individual course. While syllabi for distance courses also include the attendance policy, individual online instructors interpret the policy as appropriate for participation in the varied online learning experiences.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

ORU's Satisfactory Academic Progress policy requires students to maintain satisfactory academic progress (SAP) to receive financial aid. Students who do not meet the minimum GPA/hour requirements after the scheduled academic year (fall/spring) are not eligible to receive further financial assistance until they have met the requirements. The Registrar's decision concerning enrollment at ORU is separate from the decision of eligibility for financial aid. The minimum SAP requirements at the end of each academic year (fall/spring) are as follows:

Attempted hours	GPA
1-26	1.50
27-59	1.75
60+	2.00

In addition to these GPA/hour requirements students must complete at least 75% of their hours attempted each academic year and cannot exceed 192 total attempted hours. Transfer students are positioned relative to the number of college credits accepted by ORU. Credit is not awarded for noncredit or audited courses, or for grades of F, I, or W. Graduate students must meet all requirements for retention in their respective graduate programs (including GPA) as listed in the college sections of the University Catalog.

Students not meeting the requirements can take summer courses to remove deficiencies. Freshmen and sophomores are given an automatic year of probation when not making satisfactory academic progress, but must be making progress by the conclusion of the sophomore year in order to receive additional aid. Juniors and seniors may appeal a denial of aid with proper documentation when extenuating circumstances exist.

Attendance Policy

As stated in the catalog, regular class attendance is required as a condition of receiving credit for work done in the class. A student absent from a class or laboratory period is subject to a loss of "privilege status," and the instructor may reduce the student's grade or deny credit for that course unless the student satisfactorily accounts for the absence. Students who wish to appeal the instructor's decision may do so by meeting with the department chair for resolution of the excuse, then with the dean of that particular college, and ultimately with the Vice President for Academic Affairs. As the attendance policy for each course is stated in the syllabus for that course, all matters of attendance and the privilege of making up assignments or tests, except for administratively excused absences, are between the student and the professor.

Contractual Relationships

As indicated in the most recent Institutional Update, ORU does not engage in any contractual relationships with third-party entities not accredited by a federally recognized accrediting agency.

Consortial Relationships

As indicated in the most recent Institutional Update, ORU does not engage in any consortial relationships with other entities accredited by a federally recognized accrediting agency.

Institutional Disclosures and Advertising and Recruitment Materials

ORU provides accurate, timely, and appropriately detailed information concerning accreditation to current and prospective students through links prominently displayed on the University's primary webpage. In addition to promoting the University's relationship with the NCA-HLC, the webpage provides links to the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability \(ECFA\), the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities \(CCCU\), and the National Collegiate Athletic Association \(NCAA\). Additional external accreditation of academic programs is provided by National

The Student Handbook provides information concerning policies and procedures addressing issues of concern to students.

Relationship with Other Accrediting Agencies

In addition to professional memberships in NCA-HLC and the CCCU, ORU participates as a member in the Oklahoma Independent Colleges and Universities (OICU) and Council of Independent Colleges \(CIC\) to remain engaged with best practices in educational leadership.

ORU engages with nationally recognized accrediting associations to validate several programs within ORU. Table 6.4 provides links to the self-study reports and the results from the most recent site visit for particular agencies that review ORU colleges, departments, and schools.

Table B.5: Results from Various Oral Roberts University Program Evaluations

Public Notification of Comprehensive Evaluation Visit and Third Party Comment

To facilitate community celebration of ORU, this self-study report and supporting documentation is publically available on the website <http://selfstudy.oru.edu>. In compliance with the federally-required third-party comment process, ORU provides all of its constituents with a link to the Higher Learning Commission's third-party comment form on the ORU self-study website. Additionally, articles announcing the site team visit and providing information concerning third-party comment have been provided on the University's main web page, in alumni publications, and in the local paper, Tulsa World.

ORU adheres to all rules, guidelines, laws, and statutes in both spirit and letter. It is the intent of the institution to model the same high level of integrity and support for authority that it expects from its students.

List of Documents in Resource Room

The following list contains the documents included in the fully electronic Resource Room. Links within the text of the self-study report provide direct access to the documents. The Resource Room Document Finder will be available in the physical resource room to provide detailed information concerning the presence, use, and type of all Resource Room documents along with an opportunity to sort through the documents based on a variety of protocols.
