I understand that the maximum deferral contribution for 2023 is $22,500 unless I am eligible for one of the catch-up elections described below and in the attached instructions.

Catch-up Elections:

_____ I am age 50 or over. My contribution elections above take into account the age 50 catch-up contribution that is available to me for this calendar year (2023 maximum is $7,500).

My contribution elections above take into account the special Code Section 403(b) catch-up contribution that is available to me for this calendar year (annual maximum $3,500; lifetime maximum $15,500). (Your Maximum Contribution Calculation from TIAA must be attached to this form).

Oral Roberts University Retirement Plan Retirement Enrollment Agreement

Instructions

To begin making deferral contributions to the Oral Roberts University Retirement Plan (the "Plan"), you must complete the Retirement Enrollment Agreement form and return it to the ORU Benefits Department, Stovall Administrative Center, 7777 South Lewis Avenue, Tulsa, OK 74171. You can contact the Benefits Department at (918) 495-7561 or HR@oru.edu if you have questions.

Eligibility for Employer Match: To be eligible for the matching contribution provided by ORU, you must be at least age 21 and you must have completed a "year of service" (as defined for Plan purposes) during which you were credited with at least 1,000 hours of service. When you are eligible, ORU will provide a 50% matching contribution on your deferrals up to 6% of your eligible pay. For 2023, the maximum amount of pay that may be considered for calculating matching contributions is $330,000.

Enrollment and Investment Direction with TIAA: Your contributions under the Plan are allocated to separate TIAA contracts. On the TIAA website (www.tiaa.org/oru), you will see two options:

- ORU Retirement Plan – Employer Match: This contract receives the employer matching contributions and your deferral contributions that have been matched.
- ORU Retirement Plan – Additional Contributions (No Employer Match): This contract receives your deferral contributions that are not matched.

To provide an investment direction for amounts allocated to an option, you must complete an enrollment with TIAA for that option. This means that you will need to complete two enrollments on the TIAA website to provide investment direction to all of your contributions. Please visit www.TIAA.org/oru or call TIAA at (800) 842-2276 for more information about this enrollment process, and to learn more about the available investment options.

Roth Contributions: As part of your deferral elections, you must indicate the percentage that will be deferred on a pre-tax basis, and the percentage that will be deferred as a "Roth contribution". Roth contributions are after-tax contributions, so they will be included in your taxable income and subject to income tax withholding. However, Roth contributions are not taxed when distributed from the Plan and earnings on those contributions can also be received tax-free if certain IRS requirements are satisfied.

Contribution Limits: The IRS limits the amount a participant may contribute to an employer's retirement plan. These limits are based on the calendar year, and may change from year to year. While ORU will monitor your deferral contributions and attempt to prevent an excess contribution, you are primarily responsible for ensuring that your contributions do not exceed the allowable limit.

Basic Limit: Unless you are eligible for one of the "catch-up" rules described below, the annual contribution limit for deferral contributions is $22,500 for 2023. This limit applies to your aggregate deferral contributions to the Plan. Your pre-tax contributions and Roth contributions are aggregated for this purpose.

- Age 50 Rule: If you will be age 50 or older by the end of 2022, you may contribute an additional $7,500 for 2023. Please indicate your use of this provision by checking the appropriate blank on the Retirement Enrollment Agreement form.
- 15 Year Rule: This special "catch-up" amount is permitted for employees with at least 15 years of service at ORU. The maximum annual deferral amount permitted for this catch-up is $3,500, and the maximum lifetime deferral amount permitted for this catch-up is $15,500. However, your prior catch-up contributions can reduce the maximum amount that is available for the current year. Please contact TIAA for assistance in determining your eligibility for the 15 year rule. If you would like to use the 15 year rule, please check the appropriate blank on the Retirement Enrollment Agreement form. You must also attach a Maximum Contribution Calculation from TIAA to your Retirement Enrollment Agreement form, so ORU will know the amount of your available catch-up contribution for the year.
